DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saji et al.

Regarding claim 1, Saji et al. show an stepping motor (Fig. 1) in which a stator unit is composed of a pair of stator sub-assemblies integrally attached to each other in a back to back manner, each stator sub-assembly having a plurality of pole teeth (15 and 15') formed at its inner circumference and housing a coil inside thereof (17 and 17'), and a rotor unit (6) is rotatably disposed with a small gap from the plurality of pole teeth and has multiple magnetic poles (5) formed on a circumference thereof, the multiple magnetic poles of the rotor unit being formed by magnetizing the rotor unit alternately with an S pole and an N pole in a circumferential direction (Fig. 6 and 7), wherein while a magnetic pole width consisting of a width of the S pole and a width of the N pole in a pair is set to a predetermined constant value (4W), the width of the S pole and the width of the N pole in each pair are set to be different from each other.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claim 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saji et al.

Regarding claim 2, Saji et al. show all limitations of the claimed invention except showing the stepping motor wherein the width of the S pole and the width of the N pole in each pair are different from each other by an electrical angle ranging from 15 degrees to 50 degrees. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having an ordinary skill in the art to build a rotor for the stepping motor wherein the width of the S pole and the width of the N pole in each pair are different from each other by an electrical angle ranging from 15 degrees to 50 degrees, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3 and 4 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the record of prior art does not show an stepping motor wherein one pair of the S pole and the N pole in which the width of the S pole is set to be smaller than the width of the N pole and another pair of the S pole and the N pole in which the width

5 of the S pole is set to be larger than the width of the N pole are alternately arranged.
